

Rajd SysTech AB add global auto part manufacturer Knorr-Bremse to the client list

PRESS RELEASE, PITEÅ, DECEMBER 2016

The Swedish company Rajd SysTech, recently acquired by the Data Ductus group, is developing and marketing turn-key solutions for management of proving grounds for the automotive industry. The Rajd PGM solution provides the most cost-effective solutions and yet enforces safety, increases the density of test vehicles, improves efficiency of operations and allows for efficient planning and allocation of resources.

The Knorr-Bremse Group based in Munich is the world's leading manufacturer of braking systems for rail and commercial vehicles. For more than 110 years now the company has pioneered the development, production, marketing and servicing of state-of-the-art braking systems. Knorr-Bremse is represented across the globe, with over 100 production sites in 30 countries.

- - We are proud to add Knorr-Bremse to our client list and look forward to a long term corporation with this significant Germany company – says Jonas Moberg, CEO, Rajd Systech AB.
